Teddy bear soiree benefits kids

'Snuggly Soiree': Ann and Gordon Getty opened their home last week for the Glogau Teddy Bear Rescue Fund annual fundraiser, which benefits UCSF Children's Hospital, providing support for pediatric patients and their families during periods of critical hospitalization. Pam and Richard Glogau co-hosted; special guests were Kristi Yamaguchi and Bret Hedican.

Sacred Heart revisits the '60s

'Peace, Love & Auction': Sacred Heart Schools in Atherton's annual benefit on March 27 had a 1960s theme featuring memorabilia from Woodstock, Haight-Ashbury and King's Road in London. The event, held on the lower school campus, hosted more than 500 guests. Proceeds will support arts, science and sports programs.

CJM's new spin on the exodus

'Out of Order Seder': The Contemporaries, a group of young professional art patrons supporting the Contemporary Jewish Museum, last week hosted a fun, unorthodox Passover cabaret and fundraising event. Food, drink and cutting-edge performances by Josh Kornbluth, Nato Green, Amy Tobin, John Schott and Rabbi Noa Rachael Kushner were in the lineup.
